SURPLUS MARGIN IS EXPECTED

No One Knows How to Account for the Discrepancy-Hopeful Feeling.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, September 30.—The weekly bank statement was the center of interest to-day, and published intimations of its favorable character were ir circulation before the statement itself appeared. Prices advanced accordingly, and while some hesitation developed in the closing tone, last prices were near the best.

The weekly bank statement has been while some hesitation developed in the closing tone, last prices were dear the best.

The weekly bank statement has been subjected to criticism for a look time as an inadequate showing of the istual condition of the banks, principally on account of the operation of the system of computation by daily averages. But the skepticism which found expression over to-day's statement was unusually frank and general, owing to the eitreine variation from the estimated result.

The known movements of money for the weak promised a decline it the cish reserve of upwards of $5,00,000. The bank statement, on the contrary, indicates an increase of $1,522,200.

The extraordinary requirements of the week for syndicate payments, quarterly settlements and the Ney York tax payments to be made Morday promised an unusually heavy demahl for credits. The loan item of the bank statement, on the contrary, shows a contraction of $1,510,300. The net result is to expand the margin of the surplus by $2,20,575.

Expert authorities are entirely at a loss to find any explanation for these discrepances. The speculative operators in stocks accepted the statement at its face value. Feeling among them was confident also that the maximum effect of the October ist settlements was shown in yesterday's money market, and that easier conditions would follow next week. Yesterday's increase in the railway steel spring dividend simulated a number of low-priced industrials. The principal movement otherwise was that in the Reading stocks.

Danville Tobacce Market. (Reported for The Times-Dispatch by Dibrall Bros.)

(Reported for The Times-Dispatch by Dibrell Bros.)

Danville, Va., Sept. 30, 1906.

On Tuesday we had quite a large sale, since which time the weather has been very dry and receipts have failed off somewhat. Attogether the quality of the new has been quite good, and much better than we had sentrally supposed. The indications see that is many respects the crop is a very superior one, and will afford a fair proportion of all grades except common afflers. We think the proportion of common and medium emokers will be better than usual, and there will be a fairly good October 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th, final limit October 7th.

aupply of medium to good curters. The indications are that fine outlers will be very scorec. We fist in the crop a good deal relations which is unusually target and the good period which is unusually target at the think the fillers well be exceptionally good and the will be exceptionally good and the will be exceptionally good and the will be a selections of fine will be a selection of the selection the fillers will be exceptionally good, and it will not be difficult to make selections of fine fillers.

We have had on our sales this week some exceedingly good wrappers, and while they appear to be scarce, we are of the opinion that this section will afford a much larger proportion than any other district. We have proportion than any other district. We have let the section will afford a much larger proportion than any other district. We have let the section of the

There is a good deal of heart burning among naval officers owing to the reform which the admiralty have just announced they mean to carry out at once. This has reference to the extraordinary system under which officers of the fleet from time immemorial been supplied with furniture. It is this, when a warship goes into commission she is fitted by the dockyard authorities with all necessary furniture, both in her living and sleeping quarters, as well as with mess-plate. At the expiration of her commission the government plate is soid at auction and the proceeds divided among the members of the mess using it. In other words, a present of a substantial sum is made to the officers, The furniture is removed and sown up. In the dockyard, after the ship has been paid off, when the ship is recommissioned, new plate and furniture have to be provided, it is estimated that as economy of many thousand pounds will be affected by this extravagance system being abolished, naturally the idea of losing their traditional perquisite is not popular with the onicers, though they admit that the change is justified in the national interest.

LUCERNE, September 39.—A lawn tennis ball, given at the Hotel National, was very onjoyable and marked the close of the tennis tournament which, despite the rain, was considered the best held in Switzerland this season. M. Potdevin, an Australian crack, won the championship singles. M. Germot and M. Muhr were winners of the mon's doubles.
